

Hereunder, please find the list of the either most important or closest recurring flea markets. They are listed by importance, not based on personal experience but based on the information I was given. Some (bottom of list) were not given any indication on the number of booths. I personally like the Sint Truiden flea market as it is really huge and you can get some pretty good deals. Actually, it is not always on the largest markets that you can find good deals. Hope you enjoy these and please, give me some feedback if you visit one of the following.
